ABOUT SOPHIELLA

Sophiella was diagnosed at 4 months of age with Atypical Teratoid Rhabdoid Tumor, a rare brain and spine cancer affecting approximately 30 children a year. She endured many brain surgeries, chemotherapy, a bone marrow transplant, several radiation therapies, and countless days and procedures at Miami Children's Hospital. Despite having to suffer things no child should face, she never complained. She took everything in stride, soldiered on when most would give up, and came back from situations many times surprising her doctors and nurses. Finally, her body could take no more and she is in a place of happiness and joy. Michael Kukie, Sophiella's father, is holding this event to raise funds for Cure ATRT Now to research cures for pediatric brain and spine cancer.
